Dosing Element	20ml dosing unit
Type of Titrations	Potentiometry, Acid-Base, Redox & Precipitation Titrations
Electrodes	pH Electrode, Silver Titrode, Platinum Titrode
Measuring Mode	pH, U/mV, t°C
Measuring Range	±2000 mV, 0-14 pH, 0-100 °C
Resolution	0.01 pH, 0.1 mV, 0.1 °C, Measuring interval 100mS
DET	Dynamic equivalence-point titration
MET	Monotonic equivalence-point titration
SET	Titration to a present end point
Calibration	Calibration with automatic buffer recognition
Operation, dialog	Touch Control
Stirrer, Titration stand	Propeller stirrer along with speed controller & Titration stand
Display	Real time curve display on Touch Control, color graphic LCD
Dialog Language	English
Power Supply	220V, 50/60 Hz
Make: European union , Japanese, CWIS, Chinese or Equivalent
Additional Essential Accessories: pH Electrode, Silver Titrode, Platinum Titrode, Dosino, reagent bottles, PTFE tubing's, electrode cables, propeller stirrer along with speed controller , compatible power supply adapter
		5-10 Each

Limit of Supply: The supply should include complete unit with required optional/essential accessories for five years. Operational and service manual in both soft and hard form in English language. Five years operational and one year service warranty. Required literature (English) for evaluation including application notes should be enclosed with offer.
